Farm to Table • Secret of Temperature

About Taiwan Pavilion

This year, the Council of Agriculture, Executive Yuan, invited 79 excellent domestic manufacturers with export performance or potential to participate in the exhibition of Taiwan Pavilion. With the theme “Farming into Life-Temperature Code,” it will be divided into “Exquisite Agricultural Products Area,” “Livestock and Poultry Products Area,” “Prepared Food Area,” “Sea Food Area,” “Local Specialty Products Area,” displaying Taiwan’s local selected vegetables and fruits, tea, aquatic products, and Taiwan pork and other agricultural and livestock products and processed food, we are ready to step into the international food market as a Taiwanese boutique!

About Theme Area

This year, the "Temperature Code" themed area is specially set up to exhibit domestic agricultural products and ingredients. Through "temperature control" in the production process, consumers could savor the unique taste and beauty of exclusive Taiwanese ingredients, and agricultural products are integrated into modern life, allowing us to re-recognize what we have long been familiar with. Pork, fish products, pineapples, mangoes, custard apples and other agricultural products, in the "temperature control" to maintain the freshness and processing of agricultural products to increase the value of additional products, effectively reduce the loss of agricultural products, and comprehensively improve the transportation and marketing environment to develop the agricultural industry in a long-term and stable way.

The high-quality goods in the Taiwan Pavilion will be displayed under Taiwan's excellent refrigeration control system, presenting rich, fresh agricultural products and diverse Taiwanese food culture values, attracting international buyers and creating a win-win situation.

Exquisite Agricultural Products

Due to its unique location, Taiwan's weather is fairly suitable for farming, producing various kinds of high quality vegetables, fruits, fungi, rice, and grains. Taiwanese manufacturers have drawn on this bounty with skill to produce a series of local specialty products, creating a wealth of consumer choice.

Thirty-six vendors are represented in the Taiwan Hall's Produce Section, displaying products that include: vegetables, fruits, frozen vegetables and fruits, Taiwanese teas, bee-related products, jams, fruit fillings, dried fruits, fruit vinegars, soy milks, processed plum products, processed rice products, processed wheat products, organic produce, and other processed foods. We welcome consumers who are interested in natural, healthy, and safe foods to visit and discuss business opportunities.

Introduction

桃園市農會

Agriculture is our origin. "We look after our land by carefully picking sustainable and suitable plants."

From 2015, we have gradually started to build organic vegetable processing factories and packaging plants. In 2021, we ventured into dried agricultural products for the first time. Drying can extend the storage of agricultural products and enhance convenience and vegetable variety availability. Taoyuan City Farmers' Association hopes that it can help stabilize farmers' livelihoods and promote rural economic development.

DONG CHENG TEA ENTERPRISES LTD

Introduction

"Dong Cheng Tea Farm" has been located in the "Feitsui Reservoir" water preservation area in the mountains of Pinglin District, New Taipei City, for generations. Nurtured by the year-round rain and mist in these lush green mountains, the local tea is especially crisp and fresh and has a flavor that carries the essence of historic tea culture. We insist on natural cultivation to bring out the sweetness and goodness of our tea.

From tea picking to tea thrashing to tea roasting, it takes over 12 steps to produce the tea leaves we see in stores.

The tea is grown with water sourced from the Feitsui Reservoir and nurtured by natural mountain rains and mists.

It is processed following the 12 steps of tea production that have been passed down for six generations.

Dong Cheng Tea Farm shares both a unique taste and a great story to enjoy with every cup.

The agency handles the transportation and sales of green fruits for the members and guides the members in the production of fruits and vegetables. It has always been mainly exporting bananas, supplemented by the transportation and sales of citrus, lychees, mangoes and other green fruits.

Under the active guidance of the government and the close cooperation of the members, the export of bananas to Japan has achieved the most brilliant results. For many years, we have participated in international food exhibitions in Tokyo, Japan and Southeast Asia, as well as domestic food exhibitions (such as flower expos, etc.).

Fang Rong

Introduction

Fang Rong was founded in 1926, and the baton has been passed down to the fourth generation, Mr. Chang Bo-Liang. At his father's encouragement, Mr. Chang gave up his career in the hardware industry and returned to revive the then-fading rice mill.

Mr. Chang aimed to create the most delicious rice and develop new rice milling techniques. Fang Rong is now known for its high quality rice. In 2005, Taiwan joined the World Trade Organization, greatly disrupting the structure of Taiwan's agricultural market. To take matters into their own hands, Fang Rong and 90 other Houbi local farmers founded the Fang Rong Rice Sale and Production Association.

The association invited the experienced Mr. Kunbing to be their leader and advocate for their rice brand, "Wumile," with the goal of enhancing their product's market competitiveness. Through their hard work, they have won the award for producing the best rice in Taiwan. The association is striving to achieve co-prosperity and co-existence to maintain the competitiveness of Taiwanese agricultural products in the global market.

The rice mill insists on purchasing crops that were harvested on the same day, including grains, brown rice, and rice. Then they roast, refrigerate for storage, and vacuum seal it to reduce air exposure and maintain freshness. Fang Rong's goal is to provide consumers with the best and most consistent quality rice and to promote healthy rice-eating habits in Taiwan.

CO'DAY x Long Life Field International Trading Co., Ltd

Introduction

CO'DAY 好日籽

CO'DAY tea oil has been in business for many years and has been passed down for three generations. The founder, Mr. Wu, used to produce various kinds of oil; however, faced with the reality of imported oil, he started to transform his company into one that solely focuses on edible oil. In 2006, the third generation of CO'DAY, Wu Zen-Sen, founded the Mei Shan Tea Seed Oil Manufacturers' Cooperative to expand the supply of tea seed oil and build a sales pipeline for the product. Wu Zen-Sen insisted on two principles for the production process, which are "organic all-natural" and "fully-controlled" process. This ensures the high quality of Mei Shan Tea Seed Oil. Tu Shu-Jing, the current chair of the cooperative, emphasizes the importance of "coexisting with the natural habitat" and has helped the cooperative achieve international ISO22000 and HACCP recognition. Ms. Tu insists that every aspect of Mei Shan Tea Seed Oil must be perfect – from the exterior to the flavor, texture, quality, and brand reputation.

The Seafood Area

Surrounded by the ocean, Taiwan's unique geographic location has gifted the island with abundant marine resources. With Taiwan's advanced fishing techniques, Taiwanese fishers have been following the global trend to promote more eco-friendly aquaculture and see it as their goal to achieve sustainable fishing. By doing so, Taiwanese fishers have developed a strong industry and achieved a positive international reputation.

This year there are 12 vendors represented, displaying Taiwanese special marine products, including: fourfinger threadfin, grouper, milkfish, sea bass, Taiwanese tilapia, white shrimp, black clams, and other marine products. In addition, there are: Penghu marine products and other processed marine goods, including: squid sauce, mullet roe, mackerel sauce, and moon shrimp cake. The products on display have passed both HACCP and HALLA tests. In recent years, with the support of the government, Taiwanese fisheries have been using energy-saving water mills and have been moving to a more diverse, refined, and energy-saving development model to enhance the competitiveness of Taiwan's fisheries.

TZUKUAN FISHERIES ASSOCIATION

Introduction

Keziliao Fish Market is the first fish market in Taiwan that has gained “HACCP qualification.” The Keziliao Fish Market focuses on hygiene control during the transaction and drop-off of goods, reducing marine product contamination, and a strict policy of sanitization of all people entering the market. Once the fish arrives at the dock, it will be sent directly to work platforms for classification, and placed into baskets for auction. After the auction the marine goods will be sorted at the goods processing area and be sent to channels for sale.

The Tzukan Fisheries Association has launched a set of safety protocols and freshly captured marine goods will have a Certificate of Origin. The Certificate of Origin is managed through a QR code and has obtained CAS qualification, such actions have overseen the quality and process production of the marine goods, ensuring that consumers can receive the freshest and highest quality products.

Livestock Business Division of Taiwan Sugar Corporation

Introduction

Taiwan Sugar Corporation started raising pigs in 1953, laying a solid foundation for Taiwan's pig farming technology, vertically integrating pig farming, feed production, meat processing and distribution channels, and supplying the high-quality "TSC Safety Pork" brand with no drug residues for animal pork.

By implementing the concept of a circular economy, driving industrial transformation, and developing carbon reduction, green electricity, and resource regeneration, we aim to create a complex, green energy-driven circular pig farming park that encompasses "production, ecology, and life" and balances the livestock industry with an environmentally friendly approach. This will serve as the best exemplar for establishing a circular economy in the corporate sector.

Prepared Food Area

The Processed Food Section displays a variety of Taiwanese-style fine processed products from nine vendors that use high-quality ingredients, applying innovative processing techniques, and maintain rigorous control of the whole supply chain. The vendors that are on display are all certified with CAS, HACCP, and ISO22000 certifications. As Taiwan becomes an aging society, the committee has selected elderly-friendly products and set up a special display area. This is one of the highlights of the Processed Food Section. The committee is confident that the elderly-friendly section will definitely draw buyers both domestically and internationally.

The Processed Food Section contains products that showcase locally produced ingredients, exceptional food processing techniques, and consistent quality, which will definitely meet market demand. The main products in this section have been internationally popular, including: tamagoyaki, fish floss, pork floss, and other exported goods. Products that have been sold both locally and internationally have also been on display: oden, edamame, prepared foods, cut vegetables, and more.

The products that have been on display in the Processed Food Section are diverse and produced by vendors with large-scale operations and great track records of business partnership. The committee is certain that this will increase opportunities for buyers and grow Taiwanese products' global market share. See you at our section.
